Abstract

The system is an online diagnostic lab manager application that brings up various diagnosis working online. Here patients are first allowed to register on the site and also login using registered details. Once registered with their address and contact details, the patients may now see a variety of tests conducted by the lab along with their costs. The system allows for CBC, Blood Glucose, KFT, LFT tests to be booked by patient.

The tests also consists of parameters like Hemoglobin, WBC, etc. Now the system allows users to book any test needed. After successful booking system calculates costs and allows users to pay online. After payment the patient test is booked and the lab may now collected samples from patients registered address. After successful testing the user now gets a notification of test result through an email.

The system allows admin to attach a copy of the report into the system and automatically email it to intended patient.

1. Introduction

1.1. Overview

The main aim of this Online Diagnostic Lab project is to establish an Online Diagnostic Lab Reporting System where patients can take the appointment online and get their blood test done at home. How convenient and effective it would have if patients could have got their blood test done at home. But this is not the scenario. Today also we have to go to the diagnostic center, wait in the queue to get our blood test done. As Technology is growing rapidly we are also moving to a technical world where everything we want to be online. So with the help of this project we are bringing the use of technology in the field of medical diagnosis where patients can avail all the diagnosis facilities at their door steps. We have developed this project by keeping patients difficulties in mind. This Online Diagnostic Lab project has mainly three types of users, doctor, Patient and admin. This project makes the diagnosis process easy and reduces the burden of patients. At a same time its help the diagnostic center to track all their patients details with their test reports. This access friendly software provides quick and effective services which helps the diagnostic center to increase their sales and 10 profit. This is a user friendly; cost effective, time-saving project developed using PHP and SQL. The main purpose of online diagnostic lab management system to provide a platform where patients can take the appointment online and get their blood test done at home. With the help of this project we are bringing the use of technology in the field of medical diagnosis where patients can avail all the diagnosis facilities at their door steps. Another purpose for developing this application is to generate the report automatically.

1.3. Problem Definition

The role of our ONLINE DIAGNOSTIC LAB REPORTING SYSTEM is to minimize the human effort in the basic diagnosis procedure like patient's information test schedule, test information etc. The main function of the system is to register and store test details and retrieve these details as and when required and to manipulate these details meaningfully. System input contains patients details, diagnosis details where system output is to these details on the computer screen.

Need

1. Efficiently maintain the details about the patient, staff.
2. Simultaneously updates the changes made to any data or item in the database.
3. It is faster than manual system.

1.4. Project Scope

Today also we have to go to the diagnostic center, wait in the queue to get our blood test done. As Technology is growing rapidly we are also moving to a technical world where everything we want to be online. So with the help of this project we are bringing the use of technology in the field of medical diagnosis where patients can avail all the diagnosis facilities at their door steps. This project makes the diagnosis process easy and reduces the burden of patients. At a same time its help the diagnostic center to track all their patients details with their test reports. This access friendly software provides quick and effective services which helps the diagnostic center to increase their sales and profit.

2. System Analysis

2.1. Study of Existing System

The existing system is manual largely paper based and lacks standards. All the information need to be recorded in paper which is very a very tedious and time taking task that cannot be implemented in hospitals. In addition to large paper work, it requires manpower in similar quantity, so the existing system is very uneconomical. Existing Online Diagnostic Lab system of medical diagnosis is very much impede and unhandy. Patients have to go to the diagnostic center, wait in a queue to get the appointment. Once completion of all the formalities they get their blood test done and wait for the report to be collected which is not suitable at all.

LIMITATION OF EXISTING SYSTEM:

- It is difficult to maintain important information in books
- More manual hours need to generate required reports
- It is tedious to manage historical data which needs much space to keep all the previous year's books etc
- User should have basic knowledge of how to use internet.
- Internet connection is mandatory to access website.
- It does not provide mobile alerts.
- User must have basic knowledge about how to handle the compute

2.2. Feasibility Study

A Feasibility Study is the study of positive possibilities of the project the Different types of feasibility study are as follows:

A. Technical Feasibility Study

B. Operational Feasibility Study

C. Economical Feasibility Study

A Technical Feasibility Study:

Technical feasibility is to know whether reliable hardware and software capable of meeting the needs of a proposed system developed by an organization in the required time. Online Diagnostic Lab System is developed using html Bootstrap and with MySQLi, dedicated server, workbench the minimum hardware and software required to run this system is feasible. So it is technically feasible.

B Operational Feasibility Study:

Operational feasibility is the willingness and ability of management, lab employees, patient and admin/doctor to operate, use and support a proposed system. Diagnostic lab Plug-In information developed by php, user friendly application. So the order processing system is feasible.

C Economical Feasibility Study:

Economic feasibility is to know whether expected time savings, increased Follow up speed, increased Standard of the process and reduction in required exceed the time of developing and operating a proposed system

3. System Requirement Specification

3.1. Hardware and Software Requirements

This project can easily be configured using following Software and Hardware requirement for running.

3.1.1. Hardware Requirement

Processor: Intel core i3

RAM Capacity : 4 GB.

Storage capacity: 100 GB or Above.

3.1.2 Software Requirement

Front End: HTML, CSS, BOOTSTRAP.

Back End: PHP Database: MYSQL i.

Operating System: Windows 7 and above

- Client side requirement:

Web browser: chrome, Mozilla Firefox

Technology: PHP

Database: Mysqli

Server: XAMP

6.Testing

The process of executing a system with the intent of finding an error. Testing is defined as the process in which defects are identified, isolated, subjected for rectification and ensured that product is defect free in order to produce the quality product and hence customer satisfaction. Quality is defined as justification of the requirements. Defect is nothing but deviation from the requirements. Defect is nothing but bug. Testing The presence of bugs, testing can demonstrate the presence of bugs, but not their absence Debugging and Testing are not the same thing,Testing is a systematic attempt to break a program or the AUT.

Types of Testing

- Smoke Testing.
- Sanitary Testing.
- Regression Testing.
- Re-Testing.
- Static Testing.
- Dynamic Testing.
- Alpha-Testing.
- Beta-Testing.
- Monkey Testing.
- Compatibility Testing.

7.User Manual

This user manual is meant to be used by the all user using the system, with prior training session from the Development unit, plus he/she has to be skillful enough in operating the intended system. This manual is used for the benefit of the intended user to make it more understandable along with functioning of the system, the processes and the precautions that must be followed during working with the system. It also tells the user how to use various functionality of the system as various college are being provided according to the type of user, whenever user logs into the system. This System is very easy to operate to those who have the Fundamental knowledge of computer operations &little bit of the help of this user manual. The appropriate error message & supporting help makes this online web application easy to handle. Now, in order to get a better understanding of the system various user interfaces along-with description are also provided in the user-interface designs.

How to Use the System:

There are three modules :-

• Admin/Doctor

• Lab Employee

• User/Patient

- Admin /Doctor :

  Dashboard: In this sections, admin can briefly view the total register users, total new appointment, total approved appointment, total rejected appointment by admin, total cancelled appointment by user, total sample received, total report uploaded and total employee.

  Test Detail: In this section, admin can manage test detail(Add/Update). Lab Employee: In this section, admin can manage employee(Add/Update).

  Appointments: In this section, admin can view the booking appointment and admin also has right to change appointment status according to current status and his/her remarks.

Lab: In this section, admin received the information of sample collected by employee and upload the report a test.

View Reg Users: In this section, admin view the detail registered users.

Search: In this section admin can search a particular appointment detail by patient appointment number, name and mobile number.

Report: In this section admin can view between dates appointment reports, sales report and employee wise report according to dates.
Admin can also update his profile, change the password and recover the password.

❖ Lab Employee

Dashboard: In this sections, employee can briefly view total new assign appointment, total sample collected, total sample sent to lab and total appointments.

Test Detail: In this section, employee can view test detail. Assign Appointments: In this section, employee can view the appointment which is assign by the admin and employee has rights to change the appointment status according to current status.

Search: In this section, employee can search a particular appointment detail by patient appointment number, name and mobile number.

Reports: In this section, employee can view how many appointment has been assign, how many sample has been collected and how many appointment has been pending in his/her end. Employee can also update his profile, change the password and recover the password.

❖ Users (Patients)

Dashboard: This is the welcome page for users or patients

Test Detail: In this section, employee can view test detail.

Appointment: In this section, user can book the appointments for test.

Appointment History: In this section, user can view the appointment history and also can check the status of appointment.

View Medical Report: In this section, user can download the patient report. User can also update his profile, change the password and recover the password.

8.Advantages, Disadvantages & Limitations

Advantages:

- The system allows automate diagnosis system.
- Allows for faster service.
- Allows increased sales and profits for diagnostic labs.
- Easy, user friendly GUI.
- Validation of data will be ensure only accurate valid and complete data stored in the database.
- Easy retrieval or data will be made possible by finding techniques.
- Report generation will help made it easy to analyze the performance.

Disadvantages:

- It Reduces employment as the human efforts are being automated by this system.

Limitations:

- Only the permanent employees can access the system.
- System works in all platforms and its compatible environments.
- Advanced techniques are not used to check the authorization.

9. Conclusion and Future Scope:

The "ONLINE DIAGNOSTIC LAB SYSTEM" was successfully designed and is tested for accuracy and quality. During this project we have accomplished all the objectives and this project meets the needs of the organization. The developed will be used in searching, retrieving and generating information for the concerned requests.

GOALS

- ✓ Reduced entry work.
- ✓ Easy retrieval of information
- ✓ Reduced errors due to human intervention
- ✓ User friendly screens to enter the data
- ✓ Portable and flexible for further enhancement
- ✓ Web enabled.
- ✓ Fast finding of information requested

Future Scope:

It is not possible to develop a system that makes all the requirements of the user. User requirements keep changing as the system is being used. Some of the future enhancements that can be done to this system are:

- ➢ As the technology emerges, it is possible to upgrade the system and can be adaptable to desired environment.
- ➢ Because it is based on object-oriented design, any further changes can be easily adaptable.
- ➢ Based on the future security issues, security can be improved using emerging technologies.
- ➢ Diagnostic lab module can be added.
