

2.3.1 Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

The teaching-learning process is one major objective and the strength of our college. Experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are well adopted to ensure the overall development of students and facilitate life-long learning.

1. Participative learning

In this type of learning, students participate in various activities such as seminar, group discussion, wall papers, projects, and the skill based add on courses. Students are encouraged to participate in activities where they can use their specialized Technical or management skills, such as

- Ø Annual Tech Fest
- Ø .Annual cultural program
- Ø Regular Quizzes
- Ø Seminar Presentation
- Ø Presentation of papers
- Ø MOOC Programs (NPTEL, ICT-IITB.)

2. Experiential Learning

- Ø Practical courses including virtual labs (Ex: IITB spoken tutorials etc) are made compulsory in the curriculum.
- Ø Different learning methods viz. problem-based, case-based, project-based, inquiry based, computation-based, co-operative are implemented wherever feasible.
- Ø Students are encouraged to take up innovative projects and mini projects.

3. Problem-solving methods:

Departments encourage students to acquire and develop problem-solving skills. For this, college organizes expert lectures on various topics; participate in various inter-college and intra-college technical fests and other competitions such as:

- Ø Regular Assignments based on problems
- Ø Mini Project development
- Ø Regular Quizzes
- Ø Class presentations
- Ø Debates
- Ø Participation in Inter college events

A report on Extra Curricular Activity – Group Discussion Conducted by Prof. V. A. Sinha and Prof. D.R. Bandbuche (Assistant Professors, PGDCA, PRMITR Badnera)

"Group Discussion", popularly labeled as GD, is a popular methodology used by many organizations (company, institute, business school, etc.) these days to gauge whether the candidate has certain personality traits such as interpersonal communication skills, confidence in public speaking, team spirit, leadership abilities, social behaviour and problem-solving skills. GDs form an important part of the short-listing process for recruitment or admission in a company or institution.

Initially GD rules and regulation were explained to students. Furthermore topic was given to students regarding recent hot topics, which are popular now a days as (topic – Arrange marriage or Love marriage). Student take keen interest in explaining their points effectively in front of others.

The whole activity was judged on basis of student's skill of presentation, points that they covered, their language fluency and spirit of supporting others to talk.

Group Discussion Rules and Regulation

- ▶ Always raise hand before speaking. Avoid false starts, do not present wrong data or facts or deviate from topic.
 - ▶ Quality of thought: You can score a point if you speak less but make a valid point that is acceptable to the group
 - ▶ Avoid giving a negative impression.
 - ▶ Try to emerge as a leader as in, voice your opinion in a striking manner while at the same time listen to others carefully and also include their views in a diligent manner.
 - ▶ Be assertive but in a polite manner with expression in voice. Be calm but not quiet.
 - ▶ Clarity in the thoughts must be there.
 - ▶ Appear pleasant with the other participating members
 - ▶ Be logical while answering or questioning anything.
- ▶ Remember that it is totally your call, so go ahead with a fresh and logical mind and you will definitely make your day.

A report on Extra Curricular Activity – Quescussion Conducted by Prof. V. A. Sinha and Prof. D.R. Bandbuche (Assistant Professors, PGDCA, PRMITR Badnera)

“Quescussion” is a strategy invented by Paul Bidwell in the University of Saskatchewan English Department. The Quescussion strategy represents a shift from making statements to starting to wonder and ask questions. The participants make points as in a normal discussion, but the use of statements is forbidden. It can be an effective way of generating discussion and learning in topic areas that are controversial, traditionally difficult and where students are reluctant to ask questions.

By getting students to ask questions, we are inviting them to generate a variety of thoughts about the topic without requiring them to directly state their own views. Additionally, with each question students will likely think of answers to the proposed question.

In terms of formative assessment, the quality of questions asked by students enables us to gauge the level of understanding on a specific topic.

The whole activity was judged on basis of student’s skill of questioning, points that they want to clarify , their language fluency and spirit of supporting others to present their thought.

Quescussion Rules and Regulation

- ▶ Provide a trigger (such as a poem, topic or theme). The trigger might be a problem to be solved, a provocative question or statement, some text or a key word, a video clip, a multimedia presentation, or a website to be analyzed or discussed.
- ▶ Have students participate in a discussion that only contains questions.
- ▶ Have participants yell "Statement" or make a sound if anyone makes a statement rather than asking a question). Note: This is monitored by the class.
- ▶ Do not raise your hand.
- ▶ Open-ended questions are preferred to closed questions. "What?", "Why?" "How?" rather than "Is it true that...?"
- ▶ Try to ask questions about feeling as well as facts, try to ask simple knowledge questions as well as sophisticated questions.
- ▶ Humor is encouraged, sarcasm is discouraged.
- ▶ A question does not have to be directly related to the previous question.
- ▶ Remember that it is totally your call, so go ahead with a fresh and logical mind and you will definitely make your day.
